Ze

Search

ze is a minimalist take on language created by Mimeshrine in 2026 with only one word provided. It is also designed to resist lexicalization by having nearly zero grammar from the start.

The circle represents the soul and the arrow represents the fact that the only word in the language calls towards the emotions of said soul.

Grammar

1. ze is pronounced like how you would read it with the International Phonetic Alphabet (/ze/).
2. ze itself is a word that calls to any emotion or feeling. The emotion that ze points towards is context-dependent.
3. In writing, where there are no tones, no body language or hand movements, punctuation may be used to help distinguish different emotions.

Example

ze... ze, ze! - I first felt bad, then it got better, then it was great!

Congratulations, if you got to the end of this page (which you most likely have), you now speak at least two languages!
